

Lake Constance/Swabian Mountains/ Neckarland-Swabia/Kraichgau-Stromberg

One lake, three countries, a thousand possibilities. Lake Constance, Europe's largest lake, is bordered by Germany, Austria and Switzerland, and nestles in a hollow between the Alps and the Jura mountains. The holiday region around the lake is the perfect place to relax and enjoy nature at its best. Sightseeing, walking and cycle tours start early in the year, in spring; while water sports, lake cruises, sailing, windsurfing and swimming are popular in the summer. The mild climate encourages a wealth of lush, mediterranean-style vegetation, especially on Mainau island, and creates perfect conditions for fruit and wine-growing. This popular holiday region also offers excellent cuisine with a wide variety of fresh fish, along with a whole host of leisure activities. Places to visit include the open-air museum in Unteruhldingen, whose reconstructed prehistoric lake villages built on piles illustrate life in the Stone and Bronze Ages. There is also Reichenau island with a Benedictine abbey dating from 724 AD and Mainau island, with its castle and extensive subtropical gardens. The Swabian Alb plateau extends from Nördlingen im Ries down to the far south-west of Germany, a vibrant region with glorious scenery. A vast network of marked trails and cycle paths leads past waterfalls and ancient castle ruins and runs through flowering valleys, while the fossil-rich geopark provides an insight into geological history. The Swabian Alb has without doubt the most intriguing subterranean landscape in Germany, with more underground caves than anywhere else in the country. And when it comes to culture, the region has much to offer with its castles, beautiful abbeys and fascinating museums.
